

Questions to Ask Worksheet

As a student, you may want to know what to expect when taking a distributed learning course. Below you will find a list services you should expect as part of the program. You can use this worksheet when trying to decide which school to attend and what courses to take. You have every right to ask schools whether they provide these services and how they do so.

Offered	Not Offered	Services	How are Services Delivered?
		Registration, counselling and help with course and graduation planning.
		Information ahead of time about course requirements, expectations and techniques for succeeding.
		Information about your rights, obligations and opportunities for awards, scholarships and sports.
		Ongoing and frequent communication with your teacher.
		Opportunities to work with other students.
		Opportunities to provide feedback on the course to your teacher.
		Exciting and interesting learning opportunities.
		Different kinds of interaction with the teacher - more than communication by mail or email.
		Report cards and progress reports written by the teacher throughout the course.
